

DECISIVE NEWS
EXPECTED SOONRUSSIANS FORCING GERMANS TO RETREAT

THOROUGH VICTORY FOR EITHER SIDE ON POLISH BATTLEFIELD WOULD VITALLY CHANGE COURSE OF THE WINTER CAMPAIGN — BELGIANS APPROACHING STATE OF ANARCHY.

London, Nov. 24.—Decisive news from the Polish battlefield is expected hourly. A thorough victory by either Russia or Germany would vitally affect the course of the winter campaign both in the east and in the west but there is no assurance that there has been any definite result although Petrograd messages declare that the Russians have inflicted at least a temporary reverse upon the Germans in the angle between the Vistula and Warta rivers.

Both combatants have achieved these strokes before without settling the fortunes of war permanently. The correspondent of the Paris Matin describes the Germans as fleeing, while the latest Petrograd official bulletin says that the Germans are retreating.

Berlin announces officially that the issue has not been decided.

On the snow covered fields of Belgium and France quiet continues, the only unusual incident being the bombardment of the towns of Zeebrugge and Heyst by British warships with a few shells which struck hotels where the German staff was quartered and other buildings while the German shore batteries were unable to reach the warships in reply.

No Travelers to Be Admitted.

The Hague reports that railway communication with Antwerp has been suspended and that no travelers will be admitted to Belgium during the next few days. The Germans are believed to be on the eve of another assault upon the allies' defenses but for the time being there is a nearer approach to rest for the armies spread out from Ostend to Verdun than at any time in the past two months.

Portugal has taken the final plunge into the European war. The Portuguese congress today decided that the country should co-operate with the allies when it considers the step necessary and the minister of war will issue a decree for partial mobilization.

The greatest loan in England's history, 350,000,000 pounds sterling ($1,750,000,000) has been successfully floated by the Bank of England, both large and small investors being among the buyers. The country awaits the announcement by the chancellor of the exchequer as to the amount of the subscriptions to the belief that they will exceed considerably the amount of the loan and that the colossal transaction will have an impressive effect upon Great Britain's enemies.

Berlin reports that the Bundesrat has passed laws to prevent and to punish speculation in gold, to fix the prices of potatoes, to limit the consumption of bread in Berlin and to extend the moratorium applying to bills of exchange in Alsace-Lorraine, East Prussia and parts of West Prussia another thirty days, making its extent 150 days.

It is expected that the prices for wool be fixed this week. The government has taken up all the stocks of leather.

Approaching State of Anarchy.

The hunger stricken Belgians on the border of Holland are pictured as resorting to brigandage and reports say a state of anarchy is approaching. Representatives of the Rockefeller foundation and the American commission for the relief of Belgium are about to visit Holland and Belgium and hope to co-operate in carrying out the relief work on an adequate scale.

Queen Mary has sent to Mrs. Walter H. Page, wife of the American ambassador, a letter of thanks for the mission of Santa Claus Ship Jason which is bringing Christmas gifts from American children to children in England and on the continent. The Jason will arrive at Devonport tomorrow. She will be given an official reception by the municipality of Plymouth and by representatives of the government.

TRADING OPTIMISTIC.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Trading on the stock exchange today, the second day of its opening, was optimistic. Traders wanted more Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul at a price equivalent to the closing July 30th, but only 20 shares could be rounded up. Sixty shares of American can was sold at 21 an advance of 112 points over the July close. People's Gas and Union Carbide sold off a point. Some shares of the Studebaker corporation changed hands at 34 an advance of 6 points over the minimum due to reports that President Fish had returned from Europe with orders for vehicles for Great Britain aggregating $15,000,000.

MRS. OGLESBY INJURED.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 24.—Mrs. Richard J. Oglesby, widow of former Governor Oglesby of Illinois was thrown from a buggy today and probably fatally injured. Mrs. Oglesby is 83 years old.

War News Summarized

Uncertainty still exists as to the exact situation in that part of Russian Poland between the Vistula and Warta rivers where the Russian and German forces are engaged in heavy fighting.

Official statements concerning the troop movements are contradictory. Petrograd claims that the Germans there are retreating. Berlin, on the contrary, announces officially that the forces of Emperor William merely have halted in the face of unexpected hordes of Russian reinforcements and are awaiting strengthening columns from the German front.

Unofficial reports from Russian sources declare the Russians have achieved a great victory while like statements from the German side co-incide with the German official report. They add that fresh troops already are on their way from fortified positions along the Vistula to aid General Von Hinburg.

To the south the Russians say they had successes along the Czenstochova-Cracow front and have captured 6,000 prisoners. On the situation here the Germans maintain that to the north-east of Cracow their attack is progressing.

Only intermittent artillery duels and a few infantry attacks were reported from the western zone in France and Belgium. Paris said all the attacks had been repulsed.

From the sea British warships have bombarded "all points of military significance" at Zeebrugge, Belgium. London says that the extent of the damage done by the shelling was not known. The Germans declare that their troops suffered only slight casualties but that several Belgian villagers were killed or injured.

Petrograd announces that the Muscovites have pushed back the Turks along the whole front near Erzerum and that the Russian troops are still harassing the retreating Ottomans energetically.

Leaders of the Agrarian, national and liberal parties in the Bulgarian parliament have urged the formation of a genuine national ministry and the occupation of Macedonia by Bulgaria. It was argued that such occupation could be accomplished in agreement with the powers of the triple entente.

Berlin says the Swiss representatives in London and Bordeaux have protested against the alleged violation of Swiss neutrality by crossing of her territory of British or French air craft on the way to Friedrichshafen to the formation of a genuine national ministry and the occupation of Macedonia by Bulgaria. It was argued that such occupation could be accomplished in agreement with the powers of the triple entente.

Advices from Belgium say that as a result of destitution consequent on the war the famished people along the Dutch border have resorted to plundering and smuggling and that sanguinary encounters have taken place between them and the German troops and the Dutch frontier guard.

The French government, it is reported probably will again extend the moratorium.

Lord Kitchener has issued a decree reserving the hides of all full grown cattle to supply leather for the British army.

A newspaper despatch from Athens says the Turkish government has forbidden subjects of enemy powers, except women and children, to leave Turkey.

Queen Mary in a letter to Mrs. Walter H. Page, wife of the Ambassador to Great Britain has thanked the people of the United States for the presents they have sent the children of the warring nations on the Santa Claus ship Jason.

The maritime authorities of Chile declare it has been proved that German warships have violated the neutrality of Chile.

Advices received in Oakland, Calif., from Cattara, Dalmatia say that the effect that three American residents in California, a boy and two men, have been put to death as spies by the Austrians.

FISH SCHOONER SINKS.

Kittery, Maine, Nov. 24.—The little fish-carrying schooner Anna I. Sanborn, of Booth Bay, Maine, sank suddenly off the Isle of Shoals today endangering the lives of her crew of three. The men had barely time to tumble into a small boat and push away from her side when she went down. A plank started by the pounding of heavy seas is supposed to have dropped from the vessel's bottom. The crew landed at the Isle of Shoals tonight.

FIRE DESTROYS GIRLS' SCHOOL.

Abingdon, Va., Nov. 25.—Fire which originated in Stonewall Jackson Institute, a Presbyterian Girls' School here, early this morning destroyed that institution and threatened Martha Washington College, a Methodist Girls' Institution which adjoins the Presbyterian school. More than 100 students in the Presbyterian Institute were safely removed. A high wind was blowing and additional fire was unmonitored from Bristol Va-Tenn.

FORTY-THREE RESCUED
FROM WRECKED VESSELEIGHTEEN BODIES ARE RECOVERED—
NUMBER OF MISSING UNKNOWN

Pounding Surf on Duxbury Reef Mailed Splinters of Wooden Steamer Haneli—Crude Petroleum on Waves Brings Death to Many.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 24.—Forty three survivors had been rescued tonight from the wrecked wooden steamer Haneli, which went ashore yesterday in a dense fog on Duxbury reef, nine miles north of the Golden Gate and was shattered into splinters early today by the pounding surf. Eighteen dead had either been washed ashore at Bolinas, just east of the dreared reef or brought to port by the United States revenue cutter McCulloch and the navy tug Itasca. How many are missing never will be known for the best available passenger list in the company office gives 26 passengers and 28 members of crew, making a total of 54. These figures do not include two life savers washed ashore alive and three missing. Their boat was swamped.

The ship's purser had his wits about him and stuffed a bundle of tickets into his pockets but after he had been saved he found they were for the northern trip—useless to show how many were aboard southbound.

As the vessel was a small coaster of 650 tons, plying on a local run, all the dead are Californians. Among them was the infant son of Mrs. Valentine Franz of San Francisco who was saved herself. She held her baby by its dresses in her clench, clutching a timber with her two hands until exhaustion loosened her jaws.

Sidney Aston, chief steward picked up a floating baby, lashed it to his back and swam with it five hours until it was writhed loose.

A majority of the dead drowned in the McCulloch had swallowed crude petroleum smeared on the waves from the ship's fuel tanks when she broke up and although many of them showed signs of life when first picked up it was impossible to resuscitate them.

Survivors Spend Day Resting.
Bolinas, Calif., Nov. 24.—Survivors of the wrecked Steamer Haneli, their faces blackened by the oil-covered waters enclosing Duxbury reef spent the greater part of the day here today recuperating from their terrible experiences of the last 18 hours. Of those who were rescued, many are in the hospital of the big wireless station. Two were women and one was a boy of nine. Harold Turkenson won life and safety by a thrilling ride through the surf astride a spar.

He was the center of attraction. Two of the survivors were so seriously hurt that they were removed to a San Rafael Hospital. C. O. Blincoe, a passenger suffered a fractured leg when it was caught between timbers as the Haneli broke up.

Thomas McTeague, first mate, was hurt late Monday night when the Haneli's life gun exploded. He suffered internal injuries but it was said he would recover. Almost crazed with pain McTeague battled his way to the beach early today.

Tells of Fight to Save Baby.

The homeless fight of two women to save the life of an infant was told by Miss Celina LaRue, who struggled through the night with Mrs. Valentine Franz to protect her baby boy from the death which overtook it at dawn today.

"As the waves broke over us the brave little fellow would always emerge laughing," said Miss LaRue. "He would clasp his mother about the neck and hug and kiss her. For a while the mother lost consciousness and I carried the baby. My last remembrance is of seeing Mrs. Franz grasp the clothing of her baby with her teeth. Then some wreckage struck us and we slipped from the support we had. The baby disappeared then."

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN SAID TO LIKE SWAMP AND

Kansas City, Nov. 24.—That William Jennings Bryan tested swamp land, found it to his liking and bought some was asserted today in the trial of E. C. Chambers, president and three alleged agents of the Chambers Land Company who are on trial here on charge of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of Florida lands.

E. C. Chambers took the stand in his own defense late in the day. He testified that he was a personal friend of William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state and told of taking Bryan on an inspection tour through his land in 1910. Mr. Bryan liked the looks of the land, Chambers said, although it was under water. "Mr. Bryan poked a stick down into the muck a couple of feet," he said. "Then he examined the stick carefully and remarked 'this land is good enough for me. I think I'll buy sixty acres right now.' He didn't buy any at that time but I understand he purchased 160 acres later."

Mr. Chambers related the history of his transactions as connected with 50,000 acres of everglades land.

REPUBLICANS HAVE MAJORITY OF TWO IN NEXT LEGISLATURE

According to Official Returns Announced Tuesday Republicans Will Have Seventy-nine Members.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Republicans will have a majority of one in the next state legislature, according to the official returns of the November election announced today. They will have seventy nine members, the constitutional majority being seventy-seven.

There is a possibility that the ruling of the election commission on one precinct of the second ward may elect William Ostrand, Republican over John P. Walsh, Democrat, giving the Republicans one more vote lead. The complexion of the legislature according to the present count will be 78 Republicans, 71 Democrats, two Progressives and two Socialists.

The house will be controlled by new men. Only sixty-nine of the 153 members of the last house were re-elected. Republican legislators-elect, interested in the speakership preliminaries, feared that a speakership caucus may be impossible because of the wet and dry situation. The margin is extremely close because the two elements, with the chances that the house will be wet by two or three votes. The difference is so small that politicians believe there is little likelihood of an attempt will be made to pass a county option law and no effort to repeal the present township act.

ADMISSION OF STATE BANKS
PROVES DIFFICULT PROBLEM

Meeting of Federal Reserve Board Will Be Called Soon to Consider Final Regulations.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Admission of state banks and trust companies to the federal reserve system has proved a difficult problem for the federal reserve board which has about decided not to make final regulations to govern such admissions until it has an opportunity to discuss the matter with representatives of such institutions. No date has been set for such a meeting but it is probable one will be called in the near future.

Application of more than 100 state banks and trust companies among them several large institutions, already are on file with the board and others may follow the announcement of a policy in regard to their entrance. The meeting would be held in Washington and an opportunity offered to debate the board's suggestions for regulations. Difficulty has been encountered by the board in attempting to define how far a state bank can go in loans on real estate. It is desired that the assets of all member banks remain fairly liquid but a too strict regulation applicable in all cases might interfere with banks which now have large amounts loaned on real property, but which have their mortgages so arranged that loans are constantly falling due.

URGES PROGRESSIVE LEADERS TO MAINTAIN AN ORGANIZATION

Call Moose Leaders Will Meet in Chicago on Dec. 2nd—Chairman Hale Issues Statement.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Matthew Hale, chairman of the Progressive party in this state, issued a statement tonight urging the Progressive leadership to meet in Chicago on Dec. 2nd, to "maintain an organization and continue to fight up to the presidential election in 1916."

Mr. Hale, who was prevented by illness from taking part in the recent state campaign has been ordered by his physicians to go south for the winter and will be unable to attend the Chicago conference.

"By standing together until 1916," says the statement, "we will be able to cast a determined vote and really a decisive one toward the re-assertment of our principles and toward the nomination and election of men in sympathy with these principles even if we should not be in a position to run our own candidates. By disbanding now, either at once by an open declaration, or gradually by maintaining a cowardly silence, we go back on our pledges, we leave the forces of reaction more firmly entrenched than ever and we abandon every chance of exerting any influence in the election of 1916."

"Expediency, as well as moral obligation demands that the Progressive leaders should make a public statement at the close of the conference on Dec. 2nd, and that this statement should advocate the continuation of the Progressive party organization."

MAY URGE FEDERAL
MERCHANT MARINEPRESIDENT MAY LAY STRESS UPON
PROPOSAL IN MESSAGE IN SENATE

Does Not Consider That Enough Ships Have Taken Advantage of the Emergency American Registry Act to Interfere With His Plan.

Washington, Nov. 24.—An intimation that President Wilson will lay stress upon the federal merchant marine proposal in his message to congress next month came from the white house today with the announcement that the president did not consider that enough ships had taken advantage of the emergency American registry act to interfere with his plan evolved soon after the outbreak of the war. Officials of various government departments which keep watch on foreign commerce have said recently that the way for the resumption of approximately normal business in export cotton and other non-contraband products was clear of diplomatic tangles provided ships of suitable character could be procured. Vessels of the American flag, but previously German owned, they said, had met with delays while carrying none contraband commodities. Only the question of their bona fide ownership was at issue on these occasions but officials asserted the delays were enough seriously to hamper the restoration of the cotton export traffic.

President Wilson has shown continued interest in his government merchant marine plan during the congressional recess. He has asked repeatedly it is understood for the number and character of vessels applying for American registry and discussed the subject with Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce may times. His determination to press the Alexander bill which provides for such a venture apparently has not been affected by the opposition in congress, the bill met on its presentation. Aside from the importance of securing ships of proper character for the cotton trade—and reports to the department show foreign orders for cotton far exceed available carriers—the president believes the government should take the opportunity offered by the European to pioneer trade routes for American ships. He feels certain there are numerous lanes of traffic which would not pay at first but could be developed in valuable additions to American commerce.

To Visit His Daughter.

President Wilson worked at the executive offices tonight until late, preparatory to his departure for Williamstown, Mass., at midnight, where he will spend Thanksgiving day with his daughter, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre. Mr. Wilson discussed suggested reforms in the immigration service with F. C. Howe, commissioner of immigration at New York, who said that the influx of aliens at that port had fallen off 75 per cent since the outbreak of the European war. Mr. Howe added that for virtually the first time in the history of the United States approximately as many people are leaving the country as are coming in.

Attorney General Gregory was another white house caller during the evening and discussed with the president petrographic questions in his department. He was followed by Postmaster General Burleson, who talked with the president on postal affairs and shortly afterward Mr. Wilson boarded his train. The president has virtually completed the message he will read to congress next month but will put in a few finishing touches to the document during his stay in Williamstown. He discussed the message today with members of his cabinet.

Dr. Crayson, the president's personal physician believes Mr. Wilson will be benefited by outdoor exercise despite the cold in Massachusetts and saw to it that golf clubs formed a part of the presidential baggage.

ARKANSAS FOREST FIRES ARE STILL RAGING THROUGHOUT STATE

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 24.—Reports early tonight indicate little change in the situation created by the hundreds of forest fires throughout Arkansas. The damage thus far has been confined largely to timber and the state has been fortunate in the absence of high winds that might have made the situation extremely serious.

The gray smoke cloud which lifted in Little Rock last night again settled over the city tonight and it was impossible to see more than two or three blocks even on well lighted streets.

Early reports indicate that similar conditions prevailed all over the state.

The only hope of extinguishing the fires is a general rain and the weather bureau offers little hope of this. That any considerable setback was given to the fires by rains that fell this morning in portions of the burning district was not indicated in reports that reached here early tonight.

SPECIAL POLICEMEN HIRED

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 24.—Special policemen were hired to patrol parts of the residence district tonight because so many women have reported that they have been attacked by a night prowler since the death of Miss Jennie Miller last Wednesday night.

AMERICAN SUSPECTED OF BEING GERMAN RESERVIST

New Jersey Man is Detained for Nineteen Days by British Authorities.

New York, Nov. 24.—Detention for nineteen days by the British authorities who suspected him of being a German reservist carrying war funds from America to Germany, was the experience of George W. Steneck, connected with a trust company in Hoboken, N. J., according to the story which he told today upon his arrival here on the Holland America liner Rotterdam. At the end of this time, during the first part of which he was not permitted to communicate with his firm or relatives, he was released upon his promise not to go into Germany.

The British light cruiser Isis stopped the Steamship Nieuw Amsterdam on which Steneck was sailing to Europe off the Scilly Islands on October 7th, he said, and a boat load of marines boarded the steamer where the British officer immediately asked for Steneck. The latter showed the officer his passport and also his letters of introduction from a New Jersey member of congress to the American ambassador in Rotterdam and Berlin, he said and explained that he was carrying a large sum in German and Austrian currency to the firm's German and Dutch correspondents in order to facilitate the honoring of letters of credit issued by the firm. The British authorities had been informed however, that this money had been subscribed in the United States for German war funds and that Steneck, himself was a German reservist, so according to Steneck's story, he was taken to a cabin and subjected to a thorough search.

When the steamer reached Plymouth, he said, the military authorities decided that the money should be packed and sealed and that he should be detained. He was taken to Davenport where he was well treated, he said, but was kept under such strict surveillance that he was not permitted to see the American consul and all his letters were censored before being mailed. On October 26th, he was allowed to go with his funds to Rotterdam where he transacted his German business by wire.

CHICAGO COURT JUDGE
DEFIES GOVERNOR DUNNE

Judge Gemmill Refuses to Honor Extradition Writ Issued by State Executive.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Judge Gemmill in the municipal court defied Governor Dunne today, refused to honor an extradition writ and threatened to send to jail any officer who attempted to execute the warrant returning C. R. Hemstreet, a deaf mute, to Marshalltown, Iowa, on a charge of wife abandonment. Hemstreet was seized by an Iowa marshal after Judge Gemmill had released him on bonds. When Judge Gemmill heard this, he directed a bailiff to rescue Hemstreet. The bailiff recovered possession of Hemstreet after a struggle in which his revolver was drawn. "I'll send every official of Cook county who tries to interfere with me to jail," said Judge Gemmill.

Governor Dunne had signed the writ without a preliminary hearing having been held and a transcript of the testimony sent him according to the judge.

NEGRO IS KILLED DURING
PISTOL BATTLE WITH CONSTABLE

Posse and Bloodhounds Pursuing Negro Robber Who Escapes Officers' Bullets.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 24.—During a pistol battle between two negro robbers and Constable Bert Boone of Grape Creek this county tonight one of the negroes was killed and the other who escaped in the darkness is being pursued by a posse and bloodhounds.

The two negroes entered a saloon at Westville owned by Peter Bouchez and at the points of revolvers robbed him of the evening's receipts. Westville officers, telephoned to Grape Creek, a few miles east.

Constable Boone posted himself at a point west of the village and when the two negroes came along commanded them to surrender. They opened fire upon the officer who returned it, killing one of the robbers. A card found upon the dead man bearing the name Orange Kellebrew and giving a Danville address indicates that he was a resident of this city.

REPORT GENERAL
BLANCO WAVERINGMAY FOLLOW OBREGON AND
ABANDON CAPITAL

ZAPATA FORCES WHO HAVE BEEN FIGHTING BLANCO'S TROOPS ON OUTSKIRTS OF MEXICO CITY WILL SOON BE REINFORCED BY VILLA'S MEN WHO ARE APPROACHING THE CITY FROM THE NORTH.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Fears that General Lucio Blanco may follow General Obregon and abandon Mexico City are expressed in official reports received late today by the U. S. government.

Zapata forces have been fighting with Blanco's men in the outskirts of the capital. General Villa's men are rapidly approaching the city from the north.

Indications that General Blanco was wavering in his decision to protect Mexico City against invaders has given rise to the impression in administration quarters that the Villa advance guard must be close to the Mexican capital. From George C. Carothers, American consular agent with General Villa, advices dated Queretaro last Sunday, stated that Villa expected to be in Mexico City in a few days and to occupy the capital without resistance. Although there have been some reports that Blanco would remain in the city and arrange for the peaceful entry of the Villa forces, official advices indicate that he may join his superior officer—General Obregon—who is moving his forces along the west coast of Mexico through the states of Tepic, Colima and Sinaloa. Telegraphic communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz is uncertain and officials, though confident that foreigners will not be disturbed in any event manifest much anxiety over the situation. The evacuation of Mexico City is regarded by Carranza supporters here as a strategic move and the beginning of a general mobilization. Villa's partisans say their forces are better equipped and control more territory. Representatives of both sides seem to recognize that civil war is inevitable with a more definite alignment of the generals as the national strife develops.

Capmany, who has for several months been the spokesman of Carranza here, issued a formal statement tonight concerning the evacuation of Vera Cruz by American forces. It was in part as follows: "The evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American troops serves tangibly to establish the pre-existent facts not only of the unswerving steadfastness of President Wilson and the principles of justice that actuate a great political party but also the genuine inclination of the great and powerful American people.

Entrance to Capital Without Argument.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 24.—The Carranza troops are moving to the assistance of their garrisons in west and east Mexico according to an official report received today from agents here. Villa's convention forces are being allowed to take Mexico City without argument, but it is asserted that the former first chief will soon dominate all coast country and begin an aggressive movement into the north. It was stated officially that Generals Villareal and Hay were at Puerto Mexico entraining their forces on the Gunboat Zaragoza for Tampico, which has been threatened by Villa troops from San Luis Potosi. General Obregon with his entire army is moving to the assistance of Guadalajara being attacked by the Villa troops which so far have been unsuccessful in taking the metropolis. "The Carranza forces led by General Aguilar are depended upon to hold Vera Cruz.

Villa's Advance Reaches Teoloyucan. Mexico City, Nov. 24.—It is reported here that the advance guards of General Villa's army have reached Teoloyucan, about twenty miles north of Mexico City. General Alvaro Obregon is still in the city and his difficulties with General Lucio Blanco have been adjusted. The two generals held a conference today.

In a statement today General Obregon said that General Villa had arrested Julio Madero, brother of the late President Madero. General Obregon declared that he and General Pablo Gonzalez had sufficient troops to defeat General Villa but they had decided in order to allow Villa to enter the city where the entire constitutional army would bottle him up.

"When Francisco Villa and Enfil, and Zapata are found together in the national palace," said General Obregon, "the republic will feel a convulsion of repugnance which will shake it to its foundation. It is then that we will start our campaign to eliminate them and we will be successful."

THANKSGIVING OF FIFTY YEARS AGO.

The Thanksgiving day of 1864, which fell on November 24, was perhaps the most touching in our history. It was a gloomy day in the battle lines of the north and the south. Worn by battle and privations, just as the contending armies in Europe are today exhausted by the rigors of warfare, this November holiday was a trying event.

We read in the chronicle of the time that 59,000 pounds of turkey was sent to the Army of the Potomac, and 36,000 pounds to Sheridan's troops in the Shenandoah Valley. But turkey did not relieve the weariness, the heart-sickness of the armies. And while the little feast was being spread, Lee's men had neither food nor festivity in abundance. November was their hardest month. They were short on rations, which promised to become shorter. The granaries of the Shenandoah were closed to them, and Sheridan had the key in his pocket. Their communication with the south had been narrowed, and though Lee talked cheerfully in public, his private letters to Richmond betrayed how desperate he considered the fortunes of the Confederacy.

The civil population of the south was suffering for salt on that Thanksgiving Day, while tea and coffee were but fragrant memories. All of the Confederacy was suffering together, just as the Belgians and the French are suffering to-day. The appearance of the Confederate soldiers pained observers. One of these observers wrote: "We were shocked at the condition, the complexion, the expression of the men, and of the officers too, even the field officers, indeed, we could scarcely realize that the unwashed, uncombed, unfed and almost unclad creatures we saw were officers of rank and reputation in the army."

To the North, Thanksgiving brought a more cheerful atmosphere, for here the horrors were not so acute and there was at least comfort and food and partial happiness. It was the fourth Thanksgiving since the war began, and it was hailed as likely to be the least that would see the rebellion still active. As they sat about the board, the people of the North realized that the south had lost Mobile and Atlanta. Lee had been penned up in Petersburg; the Alabama had been sent to the bottom; Lincoln had been re-elected. The memory of the carnage of the Wilderness campaign was dimmed by the triumphs of Varragut, Sherman and Sheridan. The trend of events was unmistakable.

THE WAY TO PROSPERITY.

"The kingdom of God is within you," thus spoke a great Teacher two thousand years ago, and the statement meant, no doubt, that the means of salvation for every man are within his own heart and life. Without any spirit of sacrifice, the same statement can be applied to Morgan county and business prosperity. This statement means that so far as Jacksonville and this particular locality are concerned, this question of business prosperity is largely within ourselves. There are very few lines of business in this city which are dependent upon support outside the boundaries of Jacksonville trade territory.

In other words, under present conditions if business does not prosper in Jacksonville and Morgan county, the fault is our own. True, crops have possibly been somewhat more bountiful in former years, but it is also true that prices have been lower. There has been some disease prevalent among live stock in the county, but it is a well acknowledged fact that without disease among hogs, for instance, through a period of years, that prices would be greatly depressed. We can talk about other lines of business and other enterprises and they are an aid to general prosperity, but when the whole question is summoned up, prosperity here is dependent upon farming and stock conditions.

If there has been some business depression the reason has been largely because of timidity on the part of the people with money. As previously mentioned in these columns it is true that farm values in the past year or two have gone down in varied cases from $10 to $40 per acre. Inquiry indicates that this is true practically only in Morgan county and that in surrounding territory east and north of us where prices have been on a par or higher than we have here for farm lands that values have remained practically the same. This being true, presents further evidence along the line suggested, namely, that the depression in land values has been brought about by the people themselves. If the people of a community begin to talk about poor crops and to say that lands do not come anywhere near paying the interest, they should and comment upon the fact of the loss of soil fertility, and begin wondering how people are ever going to meet the interest on their mortgages they may have on their lands, further, if they continue to say that lands are priced too high and that a depression is bound to come, that last statement becomes the truest one of all and the depression does surely follow.

From one cause and another there has not been a great deal of activity in public improvements in Jacksonville for several years. The people themselves are in some measure responsible for this, as in practically every case where a public improvement has been projected the tax payers have come forward and objected. In some cases possibly the objections were well founded but it can be set down as a fact, however, that if a city is to go forward and constantly improve, and if general prosperity is to reign, there must be an almost continuous performance of public improvement. Public improvements always work some hardships, but there is something infectious about them and they seem to begot other improvements and to make working conditions generally better.

"But the possibilities of general prosperity lie within us," so isn't it a good time for everybody in Jacksonville and Morgan county who has not already done so, to begin taking on the optimistic view? If you have a sum of money that you are hoarding, invest it, and invest it in something here at home. You cannot find a safer place, you cannot find a place where values are more certain to advance, if everybody takes on this spirit of making prosperity evolve from the local surroundings.

CHRISTMAS FUND GETS SUBSTANTIAL START

CONTRIBUTIONS TO FUND TUESDAY TOTAL $85.00.

With Journal's Ten Per Cent Addition These Charity Donations Already Total the Sum of $93.50—The Journal Will Help You Help Others—Do Your Christmas Giving Early.

The United Christmas Giving fund which the Journal has suggested received a very substantial start Tuesday when the city hall sent in a contribution of $80 with instructions that this be distributed among the Salvation Army, the Free Kindergarten, the Associated Charities and the City Hall relief funds. This sum was augmented by $5 contributed by W. H. Doshara and this sum of $85 with the ten per cent added according to the Journal's proposition, should form the nucleus for funds which will represent a large total and provide not only Christmas cheer and aid for the holiday season, but for days and weeks to follow.

Some time since Chief of Police Davis addressed letters to the principals and teachers in the city schools asking them to make lists of pupils in their rooms who were in need of shoes or clothing, and to make some little investigation into the cases which came under their observation. As a result numerous reports have already been received by Chief Davis and others are coming in daily, indicating the boys and girls who need something in the line of shoes or clothing. Each teacher has been requested to give the ages and places of residence of the children and to indicate the articles which are especially needed. In most cases shoes and sweaters are mentioned. Already the list numbers more than 100 boys and girls who are really in need of clothing or shoes which will enable them to continue the work in the public schools and also protect them from the winter's cold which is certain to come.

One of the letters yesterday mentioned a family of several children who are coming to school poorly clad and giving evidence that they have not all the home table supplies which are needed. The father is an industrious man, but for weeks has been seriously sick and unable to work. During previous months he had been able to secure work only intermittently and so was unable to save up anything for a "rainy day." Now his predicament is that his children, through no fault of his, or no fault of their own, are in need. This is just one sample case and there are dozens of others where the conditions are really more acute than in the one mentioned.

Again we mention the offer that the Journal is making simply in the hope of stimulating giving and of offering a practical channel through which many persons who are ready and willing to give may find a way. If you have one dollar, five dollars, ten dollars or a still larger contribution to make and want it to get into the treasury of the Salvation Army, the Municipal Christmas Tree committee, the Free Kindergarten, the Associated Charities, or for the special relief work of any regular church organization, bring or send the amount to the Journal office. This sum, plus ten per cent will be deposited and a few days before Christmas the total sums contributed will be turned over to the persons authorized to receive them. The Journal will deliver the cash donations that you want to make for these laudable charities and pay ten per cent for the privilege of being your messenger.

Miss Laura McDonald is here from New York for a visit with Mrs. Helen A. Bullard and other relatives.

CARDINAL ARIST DES CAVALLARI. PATRIARCH OF VENICE IS DEAD

Was Strongly Opposed to the Tango Dance and the Immodest Dress of Women.

Paris, Nov. 24.—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Venice says that Cardinal Aristides Cavallari, Patriarch of Venice died today.

Cardinal Cavallari was born at Chigaglia in 1849 and was raised to the cardinalate in 1907. He was noted for his simply piety. On various occasions he expressed himself vehemently against the immodest dress of women and once is said to have stopped a church service in order to make a woman worshiper cover her open-work shirt waist. In January of this year Cardinal Cavallari issued an episcopal letter strongly condemning the tango dance, declaring that "only those persons who have lost all moral sense can endure it." He ordered all the ecclesiastical to deny absolution to those who, having danced the tango did not promise to discontinue the practice.

CLAUDE STARNER PLEADS GUILTY TO ASSAULT

He and George Covey Give Warning to Edgar Reno of Nortonville to Leave Town.

The village of Nortonville has been somewhat stirred because of the fact that Edgar Reno, who recently moved to the place from Greene county was ordered to leave town. Claude Starnier, who was arrested on a charge of assault in connection with the affair pleaded guilty in Squire F. L. Hungerford's court Tuesday and was fined $15.00 and cost.

George Covey, who was also wanted on a similar charge skipped out but the authorities expected to locate him by today.

The story at Nortonville is that Starnier and Covey went to the home of Reno. Covey entered the house and there informed Reno that he must leave the city or that means would be instituted to see that he did. It is understood that Reno said that he would comply with the wishes.

It is claimed Starnier did not enter the house but was arrested as being an accomplice in the matter. As Starnier pleaded guilty to the charge of assault the public was not given the opportunity of finding out all the details of the episode.

EDMUND MUNGER HEARD IN BRILLIANT RECITAL

Delighted Large Audience by His Superb Playing at Northminster Church.

Of rare delight was the annual piano recital, given Tuesday evening in Northminster church, by Mr. Edmund Munger. Jacksonville music lovers have learned to anticipate this occasion with great pleasure, as was evidenced by the presence of the large audience which greeted Mr. Munger last night. His latest program quite fulfilled the highest expectations of his many admirers.

Mr. Munger played with intense interest and finish. Thorough musicianship characterized his work as usual. His clear, flowing technique was at all times adequate to the severe demands made upon it.

In Mr. Munger's art, an inclination toward the intellectual in interpretation finds support in the vast range of the emotional to which he has easy access, indeed. The combination of these two elements gains for him a variety of effects that is orchestral and proclaims him artist.

The spirit of spontaneity which the pianist gave out to the audience in his playing was reflected in their enthusiastic applause and thus established an intimacy between them which made the occasion uncommonly delightful.

The Chopin Sonata in B minor displayed to best advantage his wonderful range of tone quality. The four movements abound in variety of themes and treatment and effect a contrast of mood that commands constant interest. The majestic opening, followed by tuneful melodies, brilliant passage work and song-like moods with their delicate accompaniment led up to a grand climax, realized in the dramatic finale.

The Ballade in G minor by Grieg might be called epic. In form, it is a series of variations on a Norwegian folk song theme and, although it seeks to express by its varied moods the story of the composer's life, the vitality and depth of this great work make it speak the message of a nation.

The oft asked question, "Do you believe in fairies?" was answered once for all those who heard the Fairy Tale Pictures of Erich Korngold. The elusive witchery of this music as it depicts the adventures of the brave little tailor, the gaily and frolic, the mischief and twinkle of the Fairy King's Ball is most convincing. The Fairy Tale speaks on Euphor that is filled with quaint appeal and a plaintiveness that yet scampers away in truly elf-like fashion.

Of special interest to the audience was Mr. Munger's playing of the E flat major Waltz dedicated to him by the composer, Mr. Fred Meyers. Mr. Meyers is a student in composition of Mr. Krich and in this waltz has achieved the mark of creative ability.

Lighter in form and Viennese in spirit are the delightful scenes from Carnival Mignon by Schuetz. Harlequin, Columbine and Pierrot present their particular mood according to their different nature.

The program ended all too soon with the brilliant and tuneful Etude in E major by Thalberg.

Mr. Munger played for encores, the Spinning Song of Hindelsohn and the Waltz in A flat major by Chopin.

WATSON AND SMITH ARE FOUND GUILTY

VERDICT FINDS DEFENDANTS GUILTY AS CHARGED IN IN-DICTMENT.

Jury Deliberates on Litter Store
Robbery Case for Over Six Hours
Before Reaching Verdict—First
Verdict Reached by Judge Creighton—Waverly Arson Case Now
Before the Court.

The case of the people vs Frank Watson and Edward Smith, charged with burglary and larceny, was brought to a close about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening when the jury returned a verdict finding both defendants guilty in manner and form as charged in the indictments.

When court convened at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning Frank Watson, the elder of the two defendants, was placed on the stand by the defense. Watson gave a remarkably detailed account of his wanderings the week previous to the robbery of the Litter Store. He claimed that he and his companion, Smith, were sleeping in a box car near Litterberry when two other "knights of the road" came in with some bundles and offered to divide some of the things they had. Watson claimed that these men had given him shoes, a shirt and some canned tomatoes. He, in this way, sought to account for the stolen goods found on him and Smith when they were arrested in a thicket south of Litterberry. He further asserted that these two burglars had been scared away by their pursuers just a few minutes before he and his companion were arrested. Under severe cross examination the prosecution did not produce any evidence in any way tending to refute any of his statements. The final arguments of the attorneys were concluded and the case given to the jury at 11:30 a. m. The fact that this body deliberated on the case for over six hours, is evidence that Watson's story made some impression on their minds. Immediately after the announcement of the verdict Attorney Butler for the defense notified the court that he would file a motion for a new trial.

The first verdict returned by the jury was not accepted by Judge Creighton as this verdict found the defendants guilty and made some recommendation as regards the sentence to be imposed. The court ruled the recommendation not proper and jurors were directed to retire to the jury room and revise their verdict, omitting any recommendation.

Waverly Arson Case.
The case of the people vs Joseph Bridges, charged with assault with intent to murder and with arson, was next called for trial.

This case is the result of an alleged attack made on Mrs. Tudor of Waverly on the night of the twenty-second of last July, or the morning of the 23rd, when she suffered a severe scalp wound inflicted by an unknown assailant and an attempt was made to burn her home. Mrs. Tudor declares that a young man who was one of her regular boarders, one Joseph Bridges, was her assailant.

The jurors chosen to consider this case were: W. J. Wood, Alexander; Richard Leary, Edward Mallory, E. J. Blackburn, Thomas Mandeville, E. E. Schofield, Lewis Gause and Leroy Ticknor, Jacksonville; Jerry Flynn, Lynnville; O. N. Angelo, and George Hayes, Murrayville; and G. C. Whitlock, Nortonville.

Mrs. Tudor was the first witness for the prosecution and told a remarkably clear tale of the happenings in her home on the night of July 22. She is 76 years of age, but her faculties are remarkably clear. She testified that she has been a resident of Waverly for more than twenty years. She does not own her home and takes in boarders and roomers to help pay her rent. The defendant, Joseph Bridges, was a regular boarder at her house for the three months, April to July of this year. She had one other regular boarder at this time, one Cleveland Deatherage, but he was not at the house on the twenty-second of July. On this date Mrs. Tudor was suffering with a cold and had retired early. At supper time she had requested Bridges to come home early, as she was not feeling well, and this he did, returning to the house about nine o'clock. The witness stated that sometime in the night she was hit on the head and rendered unconscious. Sometime later she came to and felt as though she was just awaking from a sleep. She then saw flames in the middle of the room near her cot and the smell of coal oil was strong. She at once called for Bridges to come to her assistance and she declared that instead the defendant picked up a heavy blanket, which he threw and held over her face in an effort, she claims, to smother her. With super-human strength, the witness asserts, she threw Bridges from her and, grabbing a spread from the foot of the cot, threw it over the flames on the floor and stamped out a great deal of the fire. Then, she declares, Bridges came into the room with a small lamp and scattered coal oil over the floor and attempted to start a second fire. She then grasped both his arms in an effort to keep him from it. The defendant is declared to have broken from the aged woman's hold and rushed back to his room. Her calls for assistance by this time had summoned some of the neighbors, who rushed into the house and assisted Mrs. Tudor in extinguishing the fire. W. W. McLain is said to have been the first to reach the Tudor home and, that when young Bridges came out of his room he was asked by McLain what he was trying to do and why he did not help put out the fire. He is said to have rubbed his eyes and said that he just woke up, though the testimony given Tuesday afternoon tended to show that he was fully dressed at this time. The scalp wound on Mrs. Tudor's forehead was said by the prosecution, to have been caused by a flat-iron in the hands of Bridges.

who has been playing splendid game at full on I. C. team.

Dr. Allen, when called to the witness stand, described the scalp wound as being made by some blunt instrument. The physician stated that this wound had healed within a short time and that Mrs. Tudor had suffered no permanent injury from the treatment she received on that night. W. W. McLain, who resides just west of Mrs. Tudor, told of being called to the Tudor home on the morning of July 23rd and corroborated much of the aged woman's testimony. Rev. Howard Ellis also told of conditions at the Tudor home on that morning.

At the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Ellis' testimony, as no other witnesses for the prosecution were present, Judge Creighton adjourned court until 9 o'clock this morning. At the request of the defendant the jury was required to stay together and were not allowed to separate for the night.

MAINTENANCE MUST FIGURE IN ROAD COST

Interest Charges Make Constructive
Work Run to High Figure.

Washington, Nov. 24.—While it is frequently easy for a county to issue bonds and borrow money for improving the local highways, the raising of the money to retire those bonds at maturity is often not so simple. Many counties, in borrowing more for bonds, figure that the amount of money raised represents the total cost of the road, forgetting that the road must be maintained and repaired it at the end of the term of the bonds, the county is to have anything to show for its investment.

The question of financing country road building is discussed fully in Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 136, entitled "Highway Bonds" which is written by the Office of Public Roads in Collaboration with James W. Glover, Professor of Mathematics and Insurance, University of Michigan. In this bulletin the authors discuss fully the various methods of financing road building and retiring debts for road construction, and also deal frankly with the actual total cost of a road during the life of the bonds. On the total cost of a road, the authors cite the following two examples as affording at least a basis for estimating the total minimum cost of a mile of road.

Total Cost of a Mile of Road Built With 20-Year Bonds.
Bituminous-macadam:
Cost of construction ($10,500) under 5 per cent serial bond with interest for 20 years. .... $16,012.50
Cost of annual repair and maintenance ($300) for 20 years ..... 12,000.00

Total cost for 20 years $28,012.50
Brick:
Cost of construction ($18,500) under 5 per cent serial bond with interest for 20 years ..... $26,426.73
Cost of annual repair and maintenance ($300) for 20 years ..... 6,000.00

Total cost for 20 years $32,426.73
The authors point out that the actual cost of building and maintaining a specific highway can be determined only after the character and volume of traffic and actual wear and tear have been studied for a series of years. The figures quoted above of course, will not apply to ordinary macadam, gravel or clay roads, but in all these cases the interest on the bonds must be met, and there must be expenditures to maintain them in condition. The poorer the drainage and the less permanent the character of the road foundation, the greater must be the cost of repair. The authors point out that repair costs will bear to the first cost. Similarly, the question of whether the actual surfacing is designed to withstand the character of traffic and weather to which it is subjected also has an important bearing on what it will cost the county to keep the road in such shape that when the bonds are paid the locality still will have a valuable property to show as a result of its borrowing and repayment.

MICHIGAN FARMERS BUILD ON RAILWAY.

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 24.—Already backed by several thousand farmers and business men, many of them of considerable fortunes, with the company incorporated at $1,000,000, and the right of way practically secured and franchises voted, the Trans-Michigan Railway, from Muskegon to Saginaw, seems an assured success. It will be America's first real co-operative railroad.

Unlike other roads that littered this part of the state during recent years, the new company is asking no bonus. Mile after mile of right of way has been donated. Options have been secured for terminal properties. Many of the farmers have pledged their outfits of horses and hired men to aid in the grading. No particular individual is to profit from the building of this road. No set of persons will be given stock, and frenzied finance will be entirely tabooed. The directors believe that an honestly capitalized road proposition is as good as any other money-making project, and they are willing to invest their money in it.

WORK FOR GIRLS' WELFARE.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 24.—A whirlwind campaign, sweeping the city in an effort by society women to interest every person in the city in the welfare of working girls. Under the auspices of the Women's Welfare League, the campaigners are asking every person to contribute a dollar and become a member of the league, which is unrecruited.

Every dollar raised, and judging from the first day's results the amount will be large, will go to help maintain the vacation camp for girls and women which has been such a signal of success during the past two summers. The money will also aid in supporting a convalescent home for girls recovering from illness, and in the successful work of the Big Sisters who are working with the juvenile court and the Sauk Center Industrial home.

MAY HAVE MISSED MAILS.

New York, Nov. 24.—Assistant United States District Attorney Roger B. Wood in charge of the criminal bureau stated today that the government is looking into the case of Henry Siegel with a possible view of instituting a prosecution for misuse of the mails. According to the federal criminal code the mailing of a false financial statement with intent to defraud is a felony. District Attorney Whitman it was said, will be asked to furnish the government with a copy of the minutes of the recent Siegel trial and Mr. Wood will confer with assistant district attorney Arthur C. Train about the bankrupt merchant's case.

MR. COONLEY CONCLUDES ARGUMENT.

Editor Journal,
Jacksonville, Illinois.

Dear Sir:—

In your issue of November 18th, Rev. Percy Stephens while disclaiming the intention to court controversy, adds to his previous list of misleading statements about Christian Science a further list of nearly a column and continues the discussion on the 19th and 20th, with a promise of more from his pulpit. As he began the discussion, he will of course conform to the accepted practice and allow me to close it.

If the words of opponents could have demolished the works of Christian Science, it would have gone out of existence several decades ago. Instead, it is marching steadily forward, a fact which induces ministers to attack it publicly with the invariable result that more people are moved to look into it, and when investigating a subject, people do not ordinarily pursue Dr. Stephens' method.

His contribution of the 18th helps one to realize by what mental process he manages to reach such strange conclusions. He recommends, for instance, as a method of investigating Christian Science that one consider evidence which does not relate to Christian Science cures and read a discussion by Dr. Simpson who does not believe in it. One might with equal good sense investigate wireless telegraphy by searching the writings of those who deny its possibility. As to what our critic is pleased to term failures of Christian Science to cure, which he evidently expects will cause us great anxiety, let me relieve his mind. Even if we accepted his estimate of them, we would take the same interest in them that Marconi might take in instances of failures to accomplish telegraphy without wires, and not a bit more. Christian Science healing, like wireless telegraphy, is an established fact and it is instantaneous and infallible in proportion as those who practice it are able to manifest that Mind "which was also in Christ Jesus."

Our critic intimates that our failure to disprove each of his many misstatements one by one to the extent of many columns is due to our inability to do so, rather than to good judgment. As to that point, we are satisfied to allow our readers to decide. I will however, ask permission to mention as typical of his statements about Christian Science his declaration that Mrs. Eddy eliminates the phrase, "forgive us our debts" from the Lord's Prayer. The fact is that no Christian Science service is ever conducted which does not contain the Lord's Prayer with that phrase included.

Mrs. Eddy's life needs no defence from me. She was a pure and Christian woman whom the world has honored for her unselfish labors in behalf of humanity, and no untruth uttered about her can stem the tide of gratitude that goes out to her from those whose lives have been blessed by her teachings.

And now, having each had an undue share of the space usually devoted to other purposes, let us be content that the Christians for which we are all striving be shown forth in our works and let us forego further discussion in the spirit of Abraham's admonition to Lot: "Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen: for we be brethren." (Genesis 13:8.)

Very truly yours,

Avery Coonley.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS

OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse, again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist.

STOCK OWNERS WARNED

AGAINST IMPOSTERS

Foot and Mouth Disease Brings to the Front Pretended Inspectors and Peddlers of Quack Remedies.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Reports are now beginning to come in to the Department of Agriculture from several of the state quarantined for the foot-and-mouth disease that persons who have no connection whatsoever with the Department are attempting to pass themselves off as Federal inspectors. There are several possible motives that might account for the existence of these imposters. In the outbreak of 1903 there were instances of men who obtained money from credulous victims who believed that in this way they would escape the inconvenience of quarantine and disinfection. This is, of course, a very simple form of extortion. Another motive may be the sale of some quack remedy for the disease.

No Specific Remedy.

Stock owners can protect themselves very easily against this fraud, for there is no specific remedy for the foot-and-mouth disease. Since the germ has never been isolated, it has never been possible as yet to find any serum that would act either as a cure or preventive, and the public may be quite certain that any one who says that he is an employee of the Department of Agriculture, and at the same time attempts to sell, or even recommend anything of the sort, is simply an imposter. For this reason, stock owners are warned not to allow strangers to visit their stock or attempt any demonstrations of so-called injections or otherwise.

There is, moreover, very great danger that such people might disseminate the disease. It is a well known fact that the germs can be carried on clothing. In infected territory, therefore, it is quite possible that a man who has come in contact with stricken animals may bring the disease to a perfectly healthy herd. This also accounts for much of the spread of hog cholera.

The Department therefore recommends all farmers to keep their animals from contact with all save those who have definite business with them.

INSURANCE SWINDLE CHARGED

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 24.—An alleged insurance conspiracy is soon to have an airing in court when a remarkable tale of an attempt to swindle companies out of $100,000 will be unfolded. Large policies were taken out to insure the life of Mrs. Bertha Epstein of Pittsburgh, who is nearly 70 years old and has been bedridden for two years. It is charged by the police that a healthy, younger woman was presented for examination, and that the three men held in conspiracy charges planned to load up Mrs. Epstein with as much insurance as they could take out, expecting when she died to share the proceeds of the policies with Harry Epstein, her son, who was made the beneficiary. Harry Epstein is one of the men held, and Louis Siegel of Philadelphia, Walter C. Sawyer and Dr. W. J. Probst, both of Pittsburgh, are the other men who must face the charges.

The alleged conspiracy was discovered when an agent of the Conservative Life Insurance Co., of Chicago visited Pittsburgh, and he was told Mrs. Epstein was visiting in New York. On his arrival back in Chicago he found another application for a policy for the woman, dated the very day he had visited Pittsburgh. This brought the case into the hands of the State Insurance Department, which investigated and caused the arrests.

STARTING FIRES WITH KEROSENE

State Fire Marshal Issues a Timely Warning.

Walter H. Bennett, state fire marshal, has issued the following warning relative to the danger of starting fires with kerosene.

In the first six months of the year 1914 more people were burned to death in the State of Illinois by starting fires with kerosene than from any other cause.

It is an exceedingly dangerous practice. So many fatal accidents were reported that in some counties the coroner of the county, who was called upon to investigate these fatalities, issued warning through the newspapers calling the attention of the people to the dangerous practice of starting fires with kerosene. In the county of Stephenson five deaths were reported in the period of one year.

Kerosene should never be poured from a can into a stove under any circumstances. A stove may be warm or there may be a coal of fire left in it, and in either case a serious explosion is likely to follow. Besides the liquid kerosene in the can there is always present a highly inflammable and explosive gas. If the stove is warm or a few coals are left in it, this gas may be ignited and a serious explosion occur, in which the person starting the fire is likely to be burned to death.

Kerosene starts a fire in a hurry. It produces about six times as much heat as does wood in burning and it can be readily lighted with a match. Consequently, I presume it is unreasonable to expect that its use in this connection will be entirely discontinued. The only reasonably safe course to follow if kerosene must be used in starting fires is to pour the kerosene on the kindling before placing it in the stove.

Remember, the less kerosene there is in the can the more room there is for the explosive gas and consequently the greater danger of an explosion.

More than forty people were burned to death in this state last year by starting fires with kerosene. Never under any circumstances pour kerosene oil into a stove.

MINISTERS MARRY IN OHIO.

Hamilton, O., Nov. 24.—A strictly ministerial wedding will take place here tomorrow, for the bride-to-be the groom and the officiating clergyman are all ordained ministers. The bride is Rev. Mary E. Andrews, formerly pastor of the First Universalist Church in Kansas City and later head resident of the Swope settlement in that city. The groom is the Rev. C. C. Conner, pastor of the Universalist church in Hamilton. The ceremony is to take place at the home of the bride's brother.

The bride was the first woman to occupy a pulpit in Kansas City. She went there in 1902 and held her pastorate until 1909, when she resigned to continue her studies in settlement work. She is a graduate of Buchtel college at Akron, and specialized in sociology in the University of Chicago. In 1912 she returned to Kansas City and took up settlement work, but resigned this spring because of a disagreement with the directors over the policy of the settlement house.

A CORRECTION.

An error in last week's paper stated that Charles C. Young had rented a farm in Kansas and expected to remove his family there in the near future. The mistake is, it should have been bought a farm instead of rented.

INTERMOUNTAIN RATE CASE ON

Washington, Nov. 24.—The intermountain rate case, involving freight rates in the northwest, was taken up today by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and all of the railways operating west of Minneapolis were represented. The hearing is a continuation of that begun at Chicago, October 6th. Following closely on the big lake-and-rail case, it is expected that the commission's findings on these two big traffic questions, so important to the west and northwest, will be handed down early in January.

THANKSGIVING IN THE CORN BELT.

(From Wallace's Farmer.)

If we could quit thinking about the great war, and all the waste of life and treasure, and the lifelong and agonizing misery it has caused and will cause; if we could quit out of our minds the great loss it has caused to our brethren the cotton growers of the south, and the loss of employment among our other brethren, the oilers in shops and factories of the east and in the great cities of the middle states, the farmers of the corn belt could have a Thanksgiving long to be remembered—at least on the material side.

As usual, we have this year great ground for thankfulness by reason of our material prosperity. The fields south, east and west have yielded their increase. We can once more take up the song of the psalmist:

"With flocks the pastures clothed be;

The vales with corn are filled;

And now they shout and sing to Thee;

For 'thous hast made them glad."

Nowhere in all our broad land has there been an absolute failure of crops. Only here and there has there been serious shortage. We have all that we deserve and more, unless we learn to farm better than we are now farming.

There is no part of the United States—or, we might safely add, of the world—in which the skies have rained down fatness like that which has been the portion of the corn farmers this year of our Lord 1914. In the greater portion of the corn belt, crops have been most bounteous. The only exception has been in the corn crop in the southern portion, which has been in a measure compensated for by a crop of wheat equalled only by that of 1912. Never were the prairies covered of grass than now covers them. Even cholera seems to have largely disappeared. In the dairy sections of this favored belt the yield of milk has been most copious, on account of the luxuriant grass and abundant feed.

All our live stock go into winter quarters in the very best of condition. Owing to the misfortunes of our farmers in the cotton belt, cottonseed meal, so largely used as a supplementary feed in the corn belt, will be cheaper than in many years past. Even bran seems to have fallen in price. Farmers in the corn belt have, so far as material things are concerned, greater reasons for thanksgiving than in any recent year.

As above indicated, so far as material blessings are concerned, the corn belt is the most favored section of the world. In connection with it, we have very high prices; a combination of big crops and high prices, which seldom comes to the farmer. It is a great harvest time with him.

But we will make a mistake if we assume, with the ancient king: "Is not this great Babylon which I have builded?" If we assume that this comes to us from any particular merit or excellence in ourselves, we are entirely wrong. It is true that the better the farmer, the more abundant his crops are as a rule; and for this much we may humbly take credit; but speaking of the corn belt as a whole, and of the farmers in it as a whole, it is but a Divine Providence—who has seen fit to give to us in superabundant measure what He has withheld from others.

Therefore, if we have any recognition of Divine Providence, if we believe there is a God who sends rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, we will not pat ourselves on the back and say: "We have done all this," but devoutly recognize the hand of this overruling Providence in our material affairs. We shall be unworthy of ourselves if we sit down, congratulating ourselves and patting ourselves on the back, and selfishly enjoy that which has come to us as a gift; and the more so because just now there are greater demands on our charity than ever before since we can remember.

Our brethren in Europe—and we say "our brethren" because it is time that we recognize the brotherhood of man—are being slain by the tens of thousands on the battlefields; are languishing in hospitals. Our brothers in Belgium have been driven out from their peaceful homes and made wanderers on the face of the earth; and have returned broken in spirit, as the homes made desolate, and will as soon as possible in their feeble way repair the damages done by war. Many thousands of our brethren in the great cities in the corn belt, and the greater cities farther east, are thrown out of employment and will need help.

The Red Cross makes an appeal for help such as has never before been made in the history of the organization, or in the history of the world. Wallace's Farmer asks you to join with it in helping the Red Cross. The various associations for the relief of distressed and poverty in the cities will make demands more urgent than ever before in our experience.

Those who have been bountifully endowed by nature, if they believe at all in the fatherhood of God or the brotherhood of man, will be showing their thankfulness for this lavish bounty, if they open their hearts and their hands to minister to those who, through no fault of their own, have been placed in circumstances of the direst need. The measure of our fitness to receive the blessings will be determined by the measure of our gifts to those who have been stricken by this sore adversity.

Let us make this Thanksgiving a time of joy and good cheer; but let us remember in our enjoyment the thousands in our own country and in other countries, who are in direct need and require our help, and thus demonstrate our fitness to be recipients of the bounties of Divine Providence. Thanksgiving in the corn belt should be a time of great rejoicing. Our contributions to the help of those who do not rejoice will be the measure of our faith in an overruling Providence and our sincere belief in the brotherhood of man; and all this whether we belong to any church or not. Let the words of our Master determine the separation on the day of judgment sink deep into our hearts: "Lord, when saw we thee hungry, or athirst, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?" Then shall He answer them, saying, "Verily I say unto thee, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, ye did it not unto me."

Tens of thousands of men have been thrown out of employment in the manufacturing and trading sections of the east, north and west; and through no fault of theirs. Charity will make greater demands this coming winter than have been made for at least twenty years. We can no longer say, as we have been saying in times past, that there is work for every man who is willing to work.

These are the bitter herbs that will necessarily go with the Thanksgiving feast. Therefore, it is well to remember the injunction of Governor Nehemiah on a similar Thanksgiving occasion long years ago: "Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto him for whom nothing is prepared for this day is holy unto our Lord."

And while we reverently and devoutly give thanks, let us as devoutly pray that our president, our press and our people may be guided by a wisdom greater than human; that we may be able to maintain our neutrality both in the letter and in the spirit, and thus be able to give unbiased counsel to the nations when the battle flags are furled, when the time for restoring the wastes of war shall come.

CATTLE FEEDING

Wood's Improved Grain Softener

Pat. Applied for 100 bu. size.

This wonderful device for softening grain, or cooking it will enable you to feed cattle without hogs following them, as the cattle digest all they eat when made digestible. If you have hogs you can feed them the soup of the corn, if not give it to your calves, or cattle.

I find everything on the place likes this mush even the chickens do well on it, and they lay more eggs if fed on hot mush, with a little meat scraps mixed in it.

We can make a separate coil of pipe and place inside the furnace to heat the drinking water, without any trouble. This can be put to one side or used as a part of the grate where the hot coals lay on it all the time. This mush is the very thing to fatten poor horses on. It equals feeding green corn to them and is also great for dairy cows, makes them produce 1-4 more milk.

Yours for producing more beef and pork,

RIG STOLEN IN MACOMB IS LOCATED IN JACKSONVILLE

Officers Will Arrive Today to Take Horse and Buggy in Charge—Outfit Bought by William Henderson Was Lodged at Cherry's Livery.

An officer will arrive today from Macomb to take charge of a horse and buggy, taken from a livery stable there by a man who gave his name as Rexroat. Several days since an unknown man appeared at Cherry's barn and importuned the manager, John A. Vasconcellos, to buy the rig he was driving. Thinking that all might not be right, Mr. Vasconcellos refused but the man succeeded afterwards in selling the outfit to William Henderson. The consideration was seventy-five dollars and the horse and buggy were left at Cherry's with board paid a week in advance.

Yesterday Mr. Vasconcellos received a card through the mail from the chief of police at Macomb and turned the communication over to Chief of Police Davis. The man told the Macomb liveryman that he was agent for a sheep dip and left ostensibly to make a canvass of the country near.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL CLOSED AT LYNNVILLE

The revival meeting at the Lynnville M. E. church was closed Tuesday evening, with the Rev. W. E. Spoons in the pulpit and one conversion. There were in all nine conversions, four of them men over sixty-four years old. Rev. Mr. Spoons filled the pulpit five nights per week beginning Monday and Rev. Mr. Bracewell, pastor of the church, preached Sunday nights. It was first the intention to close the series last Friday but two accessions Sunday morning caused the continuance of the meetings two nights. Both ministers have done hard work and the congregation is well pleased with this, the second successful revival in two years.

Tonight the Rev. R. H. Bracewell will begin a series of meetings at the Merritt M. E. church. Later on he will be assisted by his father, the Rev. S. A. Bracewell.

Calvert.

Friends in the city have received word announcing the death of Miss Clara Calvert, who passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary C. Strong, 2835 Marquitta, Long Beach, Calif., Sunday, November 15. Funeral services were held at the residence of Mrs. Strong, November 17, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, in charge of Rev. A. Miss Calvert was born at Bowling Green, Ky., in June, 1862, and after living in both Louisville and Pewee Valley, she came to this city, where she resided for twenty-three years, caring for her uncle, Dr. Hiram A. Jones, in his declining years. She went to Long Beach two years ago on account of ill health and had been confined to her bed most of the time that she was there, having suffered greatly from rheumatism and nervous prostration. Death was attributed to acute laryngitis. Surviving her are one brother, Charles Calvert of Pewee Valley, Ky.; one sister, Mrs. Mary C. Strong, Long Beach, and a nephew, Francis Calvert Strong, also of Long Beach. The remains of Miss Calvert were taken to Louisville, Ky., for interment. During her long residence in Jacksonville Miss Calvert made a host of friends, who admired her for her many fine traits of character.

ST. LOUIS-CHICAGO

MAIL SERVICE.

The fight between the Chicago and Alton and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway for the fast mail contract between St. Louis and Chicago, has already commenced, although the matter will not be decided by the postal authorities until next February, when the five-year contract entered into with the Chicago and Eastern Illinois is completed. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois has furnished an exclusive mail and express train, and has a schedule of seven hours between the two cities, which by that line is 256 miles. Officials of the company at Chicago have asked the motive power department for assurance that locomotives are capable of making the distance in six and one-half hours. It is believed that the Chicago and Eastern Illinois is prepared to reduce the schedule in order to retain the run. They admit that the service is furnished to the government at a yearly loss, but that the advertising accruing from the fact that the road hauls the government's fast mail more than balances the financial loss.

New, Different, as Usual, Originated by the Round Oak Folks

The heating of homes by steam, hot-water systems, and hard-coal stoves, removes all the moisture from the atmosphere in the home, and literally bakes the very air you breathe. How may healthful, moist air be generated? By the use of the Round Oak Base Burner with Humidifier. This is your insurance policy. Proper size and location of this "Health-giving" attachment together with other vital and patented improvements in construction, combine to produce the handsomest four-fuel stove which, not only heats your home more economically, but assures you of health, cheer and happiness.

E. B. Harmon Receives Letter Indicating Effort Government is Using to Fight Hoof and Mouth Disease.

The following letter received by E. B. Harmon, dry goods store in this city from one of their eastern correspondents is another evidence of the steps being taken by the government to restrain and eradicate the dread disease which is sweeping over the land among the cattle, sheep and swine.

The letter is self explanatory:
New York, Nov. 20th, 1914.
E. B. Harmon,
Jacksonville, Illinois.

Dear Sir:—
In compliance with an order of November 10, 1914, issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, we have guaranteed to the Department that the straw or hay in which the merchandise enclosed in the case, or cases, covered by attached bill-of-lading, was shipped to you intact as received from foreign country and that we would secure an affidavit from you stating that the packing material in this case, or these cases has been burned immediately upon the merchandise being unpacked at your city. The order was issued by the Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington on account of foot and mouth disease to cattle, sheep and other ruminants, and swine.

This order must positively be complied with and we must have your affidavit stating that the packing material was burned just as soon as the merchandise was unpacked. The Department of Agriculture is checking up all shipments forwarded from New York and New Jersey, and will exact a penalty unless this order is complied with.

It is in the interest of every individual in the United States that this awful disease be stamped out, as it is not only harmful to animals, but also to human beings. We, therefore, appeal to you to co-operate with the U. S. Department of Agriculture by complying promptly with above mentioned order.

Yours truly,
Geo. Borgfeldt & Co.

Many Friends and Organizations Remember Institution With Gifts at Annual Event.

The Annual Donation Day of Passavant hospital was Tuesday and as in the past was successful in every way. This worthy institution has ever had a company of earnest workers who have its best interests at heart.

Donations of fruit, jelly and vegetables were made by the Ladies Aid society of the following churches: Westminster, Congregational, Centenary, Christian, State street, Grace, Trinity, Northminster, Baptist. Other friends and merchants of the city gave quantities of fresh fruit and vegetables, flour, canned goods, magazines, linen, muslin, sheets, towels, table clothes and tray covers.

Especially mention should be made of the gift which came from a church outside the city. The Ladies of the Berea church sent a quilt comfortable. The Ladies Aid of Northminster also contributed a quilt and a lady of the Baptist church gave a quilt and the members of Mrs. Brittenham's Sunday school class of Brooklyn church also gave a quilt.

Some friends notified the hospital that they forgot about donation day and stated they would send their gifts later. The hospital is most thankful to everyone and appreciates the spirit of many who were not able to contribute yesterday but expect to later.
